Legion to Hold Memorial Service Next Sunday

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICE AT CEMETERY—WILL BE ATTENDED BY MILITARY CAMP AND BAND—SERVICE AT 2:30 P.M.—PUBLIC INVITED TO ATTEND.

The annual memorial service under the auspices of the local Legion next Sunday will be held in Redcliff cemetery next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. o'clock.

At the 1st Batt. of the Southern Alberta Regiment will be in camp at the river this week end, arrangements have been made to have all the officers and men in the camp and the military band, take part in this service. This being the case the service next Sunday should be one of the most impressive ever held in Redcliff.

The service will take the same form as in previous years. Local clergymen will take part in both divisions. Capt. Crisp, of Lethbridge, chaplain for the battalion, will address the gathering.

Flooding of wreaths on the graves of departed comrades and the sounding of the Last Post will form part of the ceremony.

A special invitation is extended to all citizens of Redcliff and surrounding country to take part in this service and it is hoped there will be a large turnout.

Legion members and all returned men of the town and district are requested to meet at the local Legion club rooms not later than 1:30. A procession will be formed at this point and will march to the cemetery leaving the club rooms at 2 o'clock sharp. The Legion is exceedingly fortunate in having the co-operation of the camp and band for this service and citizens generally should turn out to show their appreciation of this co-operation.

W. Knisley Badly Hurt by Kicking Horse

Head Arm Broken Arm Broken and Head Badly Lacerated

Wm. Knisley, a young farmer living just south of town, met with a serious and painful accident on his farm yesterday as a result of which he had his left arm broken just below the shoulder and a nasty gash lacerated on his head.

Mr. Knisley was getting things in shape to start threshing, operation when the accident happened. He was passing between a team of horses and the separator when one of the horses kicked him on the arm. The horse knocked him down between the horses and while in this position he was kicked again. This time on the head, making a cut which required several stitches and knocking him unconscious.

George Dickson, who was present at the time, rushed the unfortunate man to town in his car. Dr. Rogers set the arm and sutured the wound. Although still suffering much pain Mr. Knisley is progressing favorably.

Alberta Will Lead World in Liquid Fuel

By Converting Coal to Fluid Fuel and Displacing Petroleum

Alberta's potential coal wealth is greater than all the known coal deposits in the rest of the British Empire put together. Sir Thomas Halstead, chairman of the Empire Mining and Metallurgical council stated previously to sailing for home.

If the greatest coalfields to change coal into a fluid fuel, capable of displacing petroleum and all its products are successful, the advantage of the United States in having the richest oil deposits in the world will be killed and Canada will take the place of the United States as the world's producer of liquid fuel, said Sir Thomas.

ALBERTA RANCHER SELLS 225 CARS OF STEERS

Roy McLaughlin, a well known rancher with headquarters at Montrose Creek has just sold a shipment of 225 cars of steers to a purchaser from Idaho. Mr. McLaughlin's ranch is on the Red Deer river north of Didsbury and is called "The range, on the Blue Mud and in the vicinity of Folsk.

Redcliff Industries Making Big Shipments

Thirty Cars of Redcliff Products Are Shipped Last Friday

Some idea of the amount of business at our industries in Redcliff may be gained by noting the number of our loads of products being shipped out of here at every switch of the way freight.

Last Friday morning the freight lifted thirty cars of goods from the town here, from the several industries now in operation. As the freight calls here three times a week there is a large volume of business.

While the shipment last Friday was slightly above the average we understand that from 6 to 8 cars are shipped out on every switch and are 60 to 70 cars of an average every week.

Besides this crop of raw materials are continually coming in. This looks as though Redcliff is a pretty good place for the C.P.R. And still you can't get a drink of Redcliff water or any other kind of water at the C.P.R. station here.

The Review is reliably informed that with the Canadian National branch line running into Redcliff from Hainault some of our industries here could increase the market for their goods at least fifty per cent.

Doo Dads Dance Was Great Success

Same Orchestra Having Another Town-wide Night (Friday)

The dance in Cliff hall last Friday under the auspices of Dootie's Doo Dads orchestra, was pronounced by young folks as the best dance of the season. The hall was crowded to capacity for the occasion and music was so snappy that floor was filled for every dance. In fact the music was so good that the crowd would not allow the Doo Dads to stop at 11 a.m., as advertised, but prevailed upon them to continue their dance till midnight.

Among those present were a large number from Medicine Hat. Bills are now out amounting another dance tomorrow night, when this same orchestra will provide the music. Those who missed the last one will surely not miss this one after hearing the last one played so highly.

Dancing next Friday will be from 8 to 12 o'clock. Special prices, rent and ladies etc.

The Doo Dads have the reputation of being one of the best orchestras in the province. It is worth the price of admission just hear them play.

Here cars for white drives can be taken by Review office at a reasonable price.

Farewell Evening At Gordon Memorial

For Mrs. Stronach and Family, Miss Hicks and Miss Selhorn

A goodly number of members and adherents of Gordon Memorial church met in the church last Thursday evening as a farewell gathering for Mrs. Stronach and family, Miss Hicks and Miss Selhorn, all of whom have been closely identified with the work of the congregation and all of whom are leaving town shortly.

Mrs. Stronach and family are moving to Edmonton. Miss Hicks has accepted a position on the teaching staff of one of the Calgary schools, and Miss Selhorn is leaving to attend university.

Gordon Memorial has lost a number of valued members since the writer has been associated with the Review but it is seldom if ever, that so many have left at the same time as on this occasion.

Mrs. Stronach, Mrs. Hicks, two daughters, and one son, have all faithfully filled a niche in the church which will be hard to fill. The children have, for several years, been faithful, willing members of the choir and have held offices in different branches of church organizations.

Mrs. Stronach has, almost ever since the church started, been a valuable, indefatigable worker in the Ladies' Aid and all branches where her services and experience were required. The loss of this family is a distinct one to Gordon Memorial. Miss Hicks and Miss Selhorn have also occupied places in the church work which will be sorely missed.

At the conclusion of this part of the program, refreshments were served.

In the semi-final game in the Bennett Bishler competition between Mitchell and the local team, the former won out by 4 goals to 1.

The game was played in Mitchell Saturday. Mitchell plays the Calgary College Calgary on Saturday in the first of the home and home games between these two teams for the finals to decide the provincial championship. The total score in both games will decide the winners.

For the farewell gathering last Thursday evening a splendid musical program was rendered after which much of the above mentioned was presented with gift from the members of the congregation in token of the respect in which they are held as a reminder of their valuable services rendered to Gordon Memorial. It is acknowledging the gifts each of the recipients made a fitting and feeling reply.

Gordon Memorial S.S. Holds Annual Picnic

Spiced Picnic at Hargrave's Park, Medicine Hat

Gordon Memorial Sunday School held its annual picnic in Hargrave's Park on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of children, and young people, also a goodly number of mothers were present. Almost all the men were too busy to spend the afternoon in the picnic ground, but the children were very grateful.

The children, the swings, races, games and cake occupied the afternoon very fully. A hot and happy group of boys and girls were ready for home when the shadows of evening had begun to fall.

Change in Rates Ordered by The Ry. Commission

RATES ON GRAIN VIA VANCOUVER TO HAVE SAME ADVANTAGE AS GRAIN FOR EXPORT EASTWARD TO HEAD OF THE LAKES.

The Board of Railway Commissioners after a hearing extending several months in respect to export rates on grain, flour and other commodities via Pacific and Atlantic ports, issued a decision Friday, ordering that the export rate on grain via Vancouver shall have the same advantage as grain for export eastward to the head of the lakes, as obtains under the Crew's Next Pass agreement. The Board also ordered a reduction on grain rates from head of the lake ports via rail to Quebec and Montreal.

The reduction via Quebec is from 54 1/2 cents per cwt. on wheat, 10 1/2 cents per cwt. The board's order also provides that the rate to Montreal from lake ports shall be on a parity with the new rates stipulated on grain moving to Quebec. This reduction, however, does not affect that waterborne rate, which practically determines the wheat export movement via Montreal and Quebec. The reduction in the rate via Vancouver will undoubtedly materially encourage grain export from the prairie via the Pacific coast and through the Panama Canal, experts state.

The export rates westbound to the Pacific coast are also revised as to put all branch line points on a footing on an equality with C.P.R. main line points. This is an important readjustment which it is expected will be of advantage particularly to grain shippers in Alberta and Saskatchewan where lake traffic on merchandise shipped from distributing centres in the three prairie provinces are ordered to be revised as to 50 cents the advantage of the short-haul shippers. At the present time these distributing rates are based exclusively on C.P.R. distances.

The school opening with some overcrowding means dividing pupils up with their Teacher in School.

School opened this morning with 245 pupils in attendance. There are 28 in the high school; 22 in grade 7; 21 in grade 6; 16 in grade 5; 12 in grade 4; 10 in grade 3; 8 in grade 2; and 3 in the primary.

This is a big attendance for the opening day and will no doubt be considerably increased within the next weeks.

OUR SCHOOL

NOW that school has opened up for the fall term, it would be well if teachers, officers, parents and pupils would make up their minds to start off the term with renewed energies, activities and interest in all lines connected with school work.

For several years past there has not been the interest shown in the school there should have been, and, as must naturally follow, results have not been as satisfactory as they should have been. We refer more particularly to work in the higher grades.

Where conditions such as this arise, parents and pupils are prone to place all the blame on the teacher and the teacher in turn blames the parents and pupils. But when the whole matter is boiled down to the fine point, it will be found that all three are somewhat to blame. The teacher because he has not worked in a manner to encourage the help and co-operation of the parents; the parents because they have shown interest only at or after examination time and the pupils because they have not grasped the seriousness of their situation at the proper time.

Pupils who have reached high school, sometimes act as though it an insult to be referred to as children. They appear to think they are young men and young ladies, and want to be considered and treated as such. This idea—erroneous as it appears to us—has two sides to it. If such pupils wish to be considered as young ladies and young men must act as such; otherwise they will continue to be looked upon as children. As young ladies and young men they should realize that they are passing through the most important stage of their lives and they should take advantage of every opportunity provided for them by their parents and the community. They should realize that if they are not children they have arrived at a stage when they should put off childish notions, and do a little work thinking and acting for themselves. Otherwise, they should be content to still be classed as children and dealt with as such.

As pupils attending school, no matter whether they consider themselves grown-ups or children, they should realize that this is their time for school work and school work only. There should be no place on their school day program for petting parties, street walking or dance halls. Their whole attention should be centred around their school studies and school activities. And in order to make this possible, officials, teachers and parents can play a very important part.

One way to make this possible is by forming a parent-teacher association, when both can get together periodically to talk over school conditions and formulate plans to keep parents, pupils and teachers in closer touch with each other. Another way is for parents to make periodical visits to the school; get well acquainted with the teachers of their children and find out what they can do to help both teacher and pupil. Still another way is for parents to frequently talk with their children to keep well posted on what is going on at the school. Then if they have any complaints to make or suggestions to offer let them go and make them known to the school board. Finding fault on the street corner or in the workshop gets nowhere. It only leads to further trouble and complications. Get at the facts and threaten them out. Not at the end of the term but from the beginning and all through the term. Then there is the teacher. In many cases the teacher is more interested in the success and welfare of a child than is its parents. But parents very often do not admit or realize this. They find fault with home work and punishment. They listen to and believe all the prattle of youngsters without first getting the teachers' side of the question.

What Redcliff school needs now more than anything else is a good live principal with sufficient organizing ability to get all these forces working together and making the school the interesting centre in the community. Anything along this line should—and no doubt, will—receive the hearty support of the parents, pupils and citizens generally and with such a condition of affairs it would not be long till Redcliff school would be back to the excellent position it once held.

FRUIT GROWING

AN item in the Okotoks Record announcing that a resident of that district had just finished harvesting his crop of red currants, black currants, raspberries, strawberries and plums, causes the Lethbridge Herald to wonder why more people in the southern part of this province do not get in more for fruit growing. The Herald points out that a farmer in the vicinity of that city makes a few hundred dollars annually out of a small patch of strawberries, and says that what a few individuals can do, can be done on a large scale. The Herald also draws attention to the large amount of money Alberta spends in importing fruit each year and says there is no reason why Alberta growers should not get the benefit of this market in the mid-summer season.

The Herald is quite right. In our town and district we have seen what has been accomplished in the growing of small fruit, and last year the view had a sample of good sized apples grown right in town by Mr. Lakey. It is astonishing what can be accomplished along this line and the wonder is that more people are not going in for it, if only for their consumption.

About a month ago the Review announced the marriage of W. J. Bartlett, editor of the Blainmore Enterprise. Last week's Enterprise announces the marriage of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bartlett. We are now more anxious than ever to get that new book which Mr. Bartlett is said to be writing.

Our citizens are once more reminded of the importance of seeing to it that each of their names and the names of those in their family who are qualified, should be placed on the voters' list for the town. There is a regularly appointed time for this and that time is now at hand. This may be done with the secretary treasurer this month.

The new freight rates judgment of the railway commission will be a great advantage for Alberta. It provides pretty nearly what Alberta has been asking for and in actual money will mean a saving of around a million dollars to wheat shippers on this year's crop. Great importance is also attached to the ruling on lake terminals and distributing rates which will have the effect of instituting substantial savings in charges on first class freight to local points from Fort William and points East.

The World Federation Conference on education held recently at Toronto, was a week of good fellowship where the men and women who mold the minds of the rising generation in many nations, widely scattered and differentiated, discussed bet' ways of doing the day's work, always with the reminder that each man and woman present was a responsible social servant with a duty to perform. They were not all pacifists by any means; some of them had fought in the trenches, and were proud of their army records. But all were strong for a better and nobler and cleaner civilization, and were convinced that our greatest scourge—War—will be obliterated only by education, and that every faithful pedagogue can do his and her "bit" for the Flag and Country most effectively in the school-room.

The Wills Act passed by the last session of the Alberta Legislature has been proclaimed and is now in effect. It provides for three classes of wills which will be considered as valid namely those signed and attested in the usual way, holograph wills wholly in the handwriting of the testator with or without witnesses, and wills of members of naval, military, air or marine forces.

The Act includes a provision that every will shall be revoked by the marriage of the testator except where it is declared in the will that such marriage is contemplated or where the will is made in exercise of a power of appointment and the property thereby appointed would not in default of such appointment pass to the heir.

Home Of the Cave Men

Evidence That Scotland Was Inhabited In Prehistoric Times

Prichard that Scotland was inhabited by cave men in the early days of the old stone age has been obtained as a result of excavation in caves of southern Scotland.

James E. Crow, who directed researches in four caves, under a grant from the British Museum, of London, has reported the discovery of two human skeletons in connection with the bones of bears and other animals of the old stone age.

Further evidence of man's occupation of the caves in ancient times was found in a lower level of gravel containing antlers and bones of reindeer together with tools of reindeer horn, antlers, cut and sculptured by human hands, and bits of charcoal which showed that fire had been burning.

These finds are the first indication that there were any human beings in Scotland as far back as the Paleolithic era, which ended some 10,000 years ago. Mr. Crow's researches have disclosed the first bones of cave-bears and Arctic foxes to be found in Scotland.

Further search for traces of stone age culture will be made during the summer, it is planned.

Why 'Destroyers' Were Built

Were Designed At First To Chase Torpedo Boats

Torpedo boats in their early days were weapons effective only at comparatively close quarters to their targets. When first brought into use in the world's navies the torpedo boats, therefore, were a small, fast ship, designed to dash up in a battle ship's flank, and as the battle ship's guns were slow to fire, and it was possible to sink a battle ship with a single torpedo, the torpedo boats were built to chase and destroy them.

There was, then, something of a real torpedo boat race, but the T.B.D., which at one time chased them off the sea, and took their job, still keeps its old name, generally, now, abbreviated down to plain "destroyer."

The next step in naval architecture was to find something to counter the new weapon, and so the torpedo boat destroyer came into existence, a much larger ship, carrying guns, for the chasing of torpedo boats. Besides her anti-torpedo boat guns, the destroyer carried torpedo launchers. In case she had a chance at an enemy battleship, and so the torpedo boat destroyer multiplied the torpedo boat's role, doing everything that she could, and a bit more.
